

Counter-Piracy Protection & Insurance

Acts of piracy and armed robbery against ships are of tremendous concern to the international shipping community. It is of utmost importance to adopt proven preventive anti-piracy measurements in order to minimise the risk and protect your crew and assets to best possible standards.

Whenever you have to sail in high-risk waters you should not only rely on own intelligence but demand professional service & support. The Pirates particularly target on slow vessels with low freeboard. However, the past has also shown some successful attacks on vessels up to VLCC size.

The employment of highly specialised and trained Maritime Security Escorts & Guards is a very effective service to consider. Due to reliable maritime sources not a single attack against guarded vessels has succeeded as of today.

We have partnered with selected Maritime Security providers to offer you a diverse range of professional maritime security services.

We can also provide you with tailored insurance solutions to protect against the commercial impact of Kidnap & Ransom (K&R). These covers come together with unlimited access to professional anti-terror advise and assistance by industry leading experts.

If required these experts will provide professional crisis management services on your behalf, including the negotiation with the criminal element(s), media response and finally the delivery of ransom and the safe release of your crew and vessel.

The successful implementation of suitable preventive anti-piracy measurements is regarded by all leading underwriters and usually result in massive savings on insurance premiums.

We at MariCon can provide you with Suitable combinations of insurance and security services and henceforth ensure, that you receive high quality service at very reasonable price.

These tailored packages will also help you to reduce your workload to a minimum as you will only have to deal with one source and we will do the majority of work for you.
